

Bamboo combines the look and feel of traditional timber flooring while combining excellent performance characteristics and resource efficiency. Bamboo is an excellent example of a sustainable product as it is natural, renewable, fast-growing and does not emit any harmful VOC's * that could compromise the internal air quality.

Bamboo flooring comes in many styles and shades to complement almost any interior, and is hard wearing and low-maintenance.

* volatile organic compounds

sponsored by

nature's flooring 17