

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Mayor Tracey Roberts JP

On Friday 14 September I was very proud to officially open the refurbished Mary Lindsay Homestead in Yanchep.

Following the refurbishment works completed earlier this year, the homestead has been used by groups including the Two Rocks Yanchep Culture and Arts Network (TRYCAN) and Downstairs Gallery.

The building now features a gallery space with moveable walls, wet and dry areas for art projects, kitchen and an 'artist-in-residence room', with some of the original jarrah roof beams retained as part of the redevelopment.

A time capsule has also been prepared, which will be kept in the gallery and opened in 50 years. The time capsule is a titanium cylinder, with the majority of items being scanned and burned onto a stone M-Disk, designed to last 100 years.

It was fantastic to share the opening event with so many local community members including former residents of the homestead from the Bawden, Cockman and Fullarton families. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Lotterywest whose very generous $750,000 grant made the project possible; and to everyone involved in the project for helping to bring the community's vision for Mary Lindsay Homestead to life.

The City recently launched its new Access and Inclusion Plan which will guide the City's accessibility and inclusion efforts and initiatives over the next four years.

The Plan outlines how we will work to eliminate barriers to access and inclusion and to advocate for equity of access for all abilities and cultures in our community.

On behalf of Council, I would like to thank everyone involved in the development of this Plan for their very valuable contribution.

The City's libraries offer a range of free services, programs and events for early learners right through to seniors.

Beginning next month, the Wanneroo Library will open to the public on Sundays from 11 am – 3pm for a six month trial.

Should the trial be successful, the City will consider permanent Sunday trading for Wanneroo Library and review opening hours for other libraries, the museum and gallery.

Be prepared - firebreak regulations have changed

Landowners in the City of Wanneroo have been advised that fire breaks must now be cleared by 1 November, noting the date has been brought forward by two weeks.

Firebreaks will be inspected from 2 November 2018, with minimum clearances increased to 3 metres in width and 3.5 metres above ground level.

Bringing forward the date for firebreaks to be installed provides more time to complete remedial works if needed prior to the high-threat summer period.

City of Wanneroo Chief Bushfire Control Officer Paul Postma said, under the Bush Fires Act 1954 it is the landowner's responsibility to install a firebreak and undertake fire hazard management on their property.

"Firebreaks are installed for several reasons; critically, they enable firefighters to safely navigate properties under threat, as well as allowing firefighting crews access to the property to slow down the rate of spread of a fire," he said.

Relevant land owners have received communication detailing their responsibilities. Failure to comply will result in the issuing of an infringement notice.

Mayor Tracey Roberts said it is vital that landowners are vigilant when it comes to fire hazard management.

"Your support in being well-prepared in the event of a bushfire will greatly assist you, your neighbours and firefighters," she said.
