Mayor's Message

Welcome to the final edition of What's Happening for 2019.

With Christmas and the New Year fast approaching, our great

City is full of festive cheer.

First off, I would like to say a big thank you to everyone who donated to the Mayor's Christmas Appeal, which sees donations of non-perishable food and toys distributed to local people just prior to Christmas.

The annual appeal has been organised by the City of Wanneroo since 2000, and I am incredibly grateful for all the support it receives from our local community.

On Christmas Day, I will be attending the Wanneroo Christmas Lunch. This free, volunteer-coordinated event is for anyone who is alone, in need of company or doing it tough, and is one of many community-run Christmas celebrations and carols by candlelight events the City of Wanneroo supports through its community funding program.

More information about these events are available on page 16.

Our libraries are also getting into the spirit by playing host to story sessions and singalongs with Santa throughout December.

For more information on these and many more library events during summer, head to page 18.

The warmer months bring with them our 2019/20 event season, which started back in October at the much-loved Dog's Breakfast.

Next on the program is Live in the Amphitheatre, which opens with a spooky Friday the 13th December screening of The Nightmare Before Christmas later this month.

In addition to free outdoor movies, this year's program features a handful of live acts - from a magic show to a jazz evening.

Then, on January 26, we celebrate life in the City of Wanneroo with our inaugural Wanneroo Festival.

Following the largest Australia Day citizenship ceremony in the country, this community-driven, multicultural event will be held at the Wanneroo Showgrounds and feature a range of inclusive activities, vibrant performances and delectable food, culminating in a firework display at 8pm.

You can find out more about our 2019/20 event season in our bumper cover feature on pages 10, 11 and 12 or by visiting wanneroo.wa.gov.au/eventseason

I was delighted to be re-elected as Mayor in the October Local Government Election, where we welcomed four new and four familiar faces to the City of Wanneroo Council.

Having a diverse range of expertise and backgrounds on Council will ensure the needs and aspirations of our community - both residents and businesses - continue to be appropriately represented.

I would like to extend Council's appreciation to former Councillors Russell Driver and Samantha Fenn for their service to our community and wish them all the very best for the future.

Whether you are spending the holidays here at home in the City of Wanneroo or travelling, I would like to take this opportunity on behalf of Council and all City staff to wish our residents a safe festive season and a happy New Year.

Mayor Tracey Roberts JP

Welcome to the Birak season

In the southwest of Australia, the Noongar calendar includes six different seasons in a yearly cycle.

These are Birak, Bunuru, Djeran, Makuru, Djilba and Kambarang.

Each of the six seasons represent the seasonal changes we see annually.

December coincides with the arrival of Birak, which sees the warm weather start to take hold as the rains ease up.

An almost clockwork style of easterly winds in the morning and sea breezes in the afternoon, meant that traditionally this was the burning time of year for Noongar people.

Moojar - Australian Christmas Tree

Growing throughout Noongar Country, the Moojar begins to flower in Kambarang season (Oct/Nov), indicating that the warm weather is coming and it's time to head to coastal areas.

The Moojar is a women's business tree and only women would collect the food resources from it, including the edible roots, timber for bowls, edible sap and flowers for decoration during ceremony. This said, in some regions of Noongar country, people do not use the tree at all as they believe this is where their ancestors rest.

The bright, almost florescent orange/yellow flowers begin towards the end of Kambarang and continue through Birak season (Dec/Jan).

At this time, the flowers hold the spirits of those who have passed in the year and with the warm gentle easterly winds these spirits are taken from the land out to sea to continue their cycle.

It's for this reason that the flowers should not be used as a cut decoration flower inside, as the spirits will become trapped and won't be able to journey.

We would like to pay respect to the Elders of the Noongar nation, past, present and future, who have walked and cared for the land and we acknowledge and respect their continuing culture and the contributions made to the life of this City and this region.

Stay safe at the beach this summer

With 32km of coastline that stretches all the way from Claytons in Mindarie to Dewars in Two Rocks, locals and visitors to the City of Wanneroo are spoilt for choice when it comes to visiting the beach this summer.

Before you head out, make sure you are aware of the risks and well equipped to stay safe during your visit.

See the signs

Beach safety signs carry important information relevant to that specific beach, such as hazard warnings, information relating to the conditions and the safety measures that are in place. Be sure to familiarise yourself before venturing onto the sand or into the surf. Every beach is different, with different characteristics and conditions.

Yanchep Surf Life Saving Club President Billy Prinsloo said surf lifesavers were “highly qualified, very friendly and excited to share information about the beach” with visitors.

“Go up to them, say g’day, and ask them anything you need to know,” Mr Prinsloo said. “They are also qualified to help out with first aid other than the dispensing of medicine, so if you cut yourself or get stung, go to them for help.”

Swim between the flags

Red and yellow flags on the sand indicate that a lifesaving service is currently in operation. Closely supervised by lifeguards, this section of the beach has been earmarked as safe for swimming.

Lifeguards pay more attention to the area between the red and yellow flags than any other part of the beach.

Beach buddies

Buddy up when you hit the beach. Look out for one another, and if someone needs assistance, one person can seek help. It is also important to know your limits. Communicate these with those around you so that everyone is on the same page.

Cool and calm

If you stray outside your comfort zone in the water and require assistance, Mr Prinsloo said it was important to remain calm.

“Raise a straight arm and call for help,” he said. “Floating and conserving energy is important until help arrives. If you struggle against the current or a rip, you will get tired and this leads to panic and disarray.”

Come prepared

It goes without saying, but packing your beach bag with all the bare necessities is paramount. This includes a broad-brimmed hat and sunglasses, sunscreen (SPF 30 or higher), UV-protective clothing such as a long-sleeved rashie and a form of shade, like an umbrella or a cabana.

Mr Prinsloo said the most important thing was to stay hydrated and to protect yourself from the sun, both in and out of the water.

“If you are missing any of these when you arrive at the beach, go chat to the lifesavers on duty - they keep plenty of water and sunblock on hand,” he said.

A full-time and community driven Mayor, Tracey Roberts will now serve her third term in the role, having been elected mayor in 2011 and serving as a Wanneroo councillor since 2003.

"Our Councillors bring skills and interests in small business, entrepreneurship, road safety, legal matters, environment, youth education and welfare, community safety and facilities," Mayor Roberts said.

"Having a diverse range of expertise and backgrounds on Council will ensure that the needs and aspirations of our community - both residents and businesses - continue to be appropriately represented."

In addition to serving as Deputy President of the Western Australian Local Government Association (WALGA) and Vice President of the Australian Local Government Association (ALGA), Mayor Roberts advocates for local employment opportunities, community safety and the infrastructure required to service the City's growing population.

South Ward

Marangaroo resident Brett Treby has served as a City of Wanneroo councillor since 1999, and will once again represent the South Ward having won re-election in October.

Kingsway Aquatic Playspace

Kids have another way of keeping cool this summer with the completion of the highly anticipated aquatic playspace at Kingsway Regional Sporting Complex in Madeley.

The aquatic playspace is conveniently located next to the Dinosaur Park playground and has elevated sprays as well as ground sprays and jets.

Mayor Tracey Roberts said the City was proud to have delivered the $700,000 project.

"The community support for this project has been overwhelming, with children from across the City eager to have fun at this community-based attraction.

"The addition of the water playground to Kingsway Regional Sporting Complex will further enhance its reputation as a favourite destination for families."

The Federal Government contributed $300,000 towards the project. Senator Dean Smith, Patron Senator for Perth's northern suburbs, said the play space was important to Perth's north eastern suburbs.

"Parks and associated amenities are part of the glue that keeps our communities together," Senator Smith said.

"This project will allow local children to run around, and have some fun at the dinosaur themed splash pad, while their parents can unwind."

Dennis Cooley Pavilion, Girrawheen

A major upgrade to the Dennis Cooley Pavilion at Hudson Park Girrawheen is expected to be completed in winter 2020.

The $1 million project will see the Dennis Cooley Pavilion grow from a small clubroom with toilets, to a facility with two change rooms, first aid and umpire's rooms, kiosk/kitchen, internal and external storage, universal access and public toilets.

McCorkell Constructions was awarded the tender for construction, which includes bulk earthworks, retaining walls and fit out.

West Coast Cricket Club President Ryan Leonard said it was a fantastic project that would benefit the Girrawheen community.

"Sporting clubs provide lots of opportunities for local people to socialise and keep active," Mr Leonard said.

"My club has been playing in the local area for 26 years and it will be great to have this upgraded facility as our home base."

Works are underway on a new sports amenities building in Madeley.

Wanneroo City Soccer Clubrooms, Madeley

Construction of the $930,000 sports amenities building at Kingsway Regional Sporting Complex in Madeley commenced in August 2019, and is progressing on schedule.

The new sports facility includes six change rooms, 18 toilets and wet areas, a storeroom and a covered veranda overlooking the adjacent sporting oval.

Wanneroo City Soccer Club Treasurer Dave Udy said he expected the new sporting complex to attract more players and teams.

"The Roos have been here since 1986 and since then local interest in the sport has grown considerably, especially among female players."

"Having new change rooms and other facilities means the club will have the flexibility to recruit more teams which is a huge win for local soccer."

The project construction is being undertaken by Solution 4 Building, and is scheduled for completion in March 2020.

Ghost Gum Boulevard, Banksia Grove

Traffic signals are now operational at the intersection of Ghost Gum Boulevard and Joondalup Drive, Banksia Grove.

The $200,000 project will provide a safer crossing option for pedestrians across Joondalup Drive, to access the Banksia Grove shopping precinct.

Western Power began installation of power for street lighting in June, while Main Roads WA installed pedestrian line marking.

Edgar Griffiths Dog Park, Wanneroo

Great news for local canines - construction is now underway on the City of Wanneroo's newest dog park.

Situated adjacent to the carpark on the corner of Garden Park Drive and Casuarina Way in Wanneroo, the Edgar Griffiths Dog Park will include a variety of agility equipment, a 1.8m high boundary fence, self-closing double gate entry system, 1000m<sup>2</sup> of irrigated turf, drinking fountains with tippable dog bowls and a sandpit for digging.

The dog park is designed to offer improved accessibility through an extensive path network and availability of seating, as well as greater opportunities for all dogs to exercise and socialise.

City of Wanneroo Mayor Tracey Roberts said the park would offer different play elements to accommodate the needs of dogs of all sizes, breeds, ages and abilities.

"With this dedicated dog exercise area, our City's canine citizens will have space specifically designed for them," Mayor Roberts said.

"I would like to thank the State Government for its contribution of $200,000 towards the Central Ward dog park project."

The park is expected to be open to the public in December 2019.

Pinjar Road dualling, Banksia Grove

Upgrades on Pinjar Road from Blackberry Drive to Joondalup Drive are expected to conclude in December, two months ahead of schedule.

The four-lane carriageway will ease congestion for commuters, and there is also a 3 metre wide shared pathway as a result of the City's Transport Strategy.

Councillors Natalie Sangalli, Chris Baker and Sonet Coetzee while work takes place on Marmion Avenue.

Marmion Avenue dualling, Alkimos to Yanchep

Construction on the dualling of Marmion Avenue is making great progress, with all 11.5km of the bitumen now laid.

The 1.2km stretch of road adjacent to Alkimos Vista is now complete, while work continues to progress on a 2.3km section from Camborne Parkway to Alkimos Vista and an 8km section from Shorehaven to Yanchep.

This third section has included the construction of four new roundabouts, three of which are for future roads heading both east and west.

The new roundabout at the future Eglinton Drive intersection is an important piece of infrastructure as it will connect to METRONET's new Eglinton train station.

All three sections of road are scheduled for completion in February 2020.

The City of Wanneroo will be hosting a family-friendly cycling event in March to coincide with the opening of this new stretch of road.

"The City of Wanneroo greatly appreciates the funding contribution of $23 million from the State Government, which fully funds this vital project," Mayor Tracey Roberts said.

Belhaven Park, Quinns Rocks

Sporting clubs are often the heart of the community, where friendships are forged as families gather for training and matches during the season.

Daniel Shorthill, President of the Quinns Rocks Junior Cricket Club, knows that all too well. The award-winning club was founded in the 1980s and has since twice been recognised as WA Junior Cricket Club of the Year and more recently was honoured as the National Community Cricket Club of the Year.

That is testament to the club's firm support and roots in the community. The club has 400 members ranging from five to 17 years in age and includes boys, girls and a program for teenagers living with disabilities.

Construction of a $1.4 million sport amenities building at the club's home ground Belhaven Park in Quinns Rocks is underway and includes unisex changing rooms, first aid and umpires room, kiosk and servery, public toilets, store rooms and bin storage.

The work will also include a veranda and terraced seating overlooking the oval, while the design allows for a 100sqm multipurpose room to be built in future.

Mr Shorthill said the upgrades will provide a big boost to the vibrant and family oriented club.

"This will be a positive place for sport in our region and we can use the Belhaven ground because it will have toilets," he said. Appropriate storage so that clubs don't have to use sea containers will also be welcome.

Belhaven Park is also home ground to the Quinns Districts Junior Football Club, Brighton Seahawks Junior Football Club and the Quinns Rocks Little Athletics Club. Quinns Beach Primary School also uses the facility. Work is scheduled to finish in March 2020.

New beach safety signs

The Beach Emergency Numbers (BEN) Sign Program is scheduled to be rolled out at various City beaches by early 2020 to improve response times in a range of medical and other emergencies.

The red and green signs help first responders by providing specific location information via unique code numbers integrated into emergency services Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) systems.

The numbers have a prefix followed by a one to four digit code.

In the event of an emergency, dial 000 and quote the unique code and specific location information.

Where possible, the caller should wait at the beach access point until emergency service crews arrive.

Beach users should take note of the BEN sign code when they head to the beach.

For beaches without BEN signs, the Australian Government's Emergency+ app can be used to help first responders locate an emergency site.

The City received a grant from the WA State Government for the BEN Sign Program.

It was named in honour of fatal shark bite victim Ben Gerring who died in 2016 off Perth's south coast, and is designed to assist in a range of emergency situations, not just shark attacks.

WARD UPDATES - LOOKING AHEAD

Work is now underway on the new sports amenities building at Shelvock Park.

Southern Suburbs Library, Landsdale

Following Council approval of a site in Landsdale in August, detailed designs and development of a library for Landsdale is progressing.

Construction of the $7.3 million project is expected to commence in the second half of 2021.

Casserly Park, Girrawheen

SOUTH

With community comment on two concept designs invited earlier this year, work will soon begin on upgrades to Casserly Park in Girrawheen, with an expected completion date of April 2020.

Shelvock Park, Koondoola

Construction of a new sports amenities building - with change rooms, umpires room, first aid room, storage rooms, kiosk and multipurpose room - is underway. Practical completion scheduled for June 2020.

Wanneroo Showgrounds

CENTRAL

Sturdier garrison fencing will be installed at the Wanneroo Showgrounds to improve safety and reduce ongoing maintenance costs.

The remaining stages are expected to be completed by mid-January.

Wanneroo Aquamotion

As part of ongoing improvements at Wanneroo Aquamotion, concept designs for a new family change area are taking shape.

Construction is expected to commence in winter 2021.

New garrison fencing will improve security at the Wanneroo Showgrounds.

Regional Northern Coastal Suburbs Swimming Pool

Planning for construction of a pool within the City's northern corridor has been on the City's forward planning agenda for many years and was originally identified in the City's Northern Coastal Growth Corridor Community Facilities Plan (2011).

In February 2018, Council agreed that the 2042 implementation date noted in the plan needed to be brought forward.

Dates and potential locations for the pool are under review and more information is expected in early 2020.

A feasibility study will be considered by Council as part of its determinations on suitable location options.

Leatherback Park, Alkimos

Leatherback Park in Alkimos will soon play host to a new sports amenities building, with completion of the $1.3m project expected in December 2020.

Splendid Park, Yanchep

Scheduled for completion in mid-2020, design and construct of a new skate park in Splendid Park, Yanchep is advancing. The project is costed at a total of $680,000, including a contribution of $450,000 from the State Government.

Street eats program keeps on truckin'

It will be foodie heaven across the City of Wanneroo once again this summer, with the annual food truck season delivering a wide selection of tasty treats at more than 10 locations.

Established in 2017, the City's popular food truck program has come on leaps and bounds, and is now at a point where coordination responsibilities can be handled by independent operators, according to Mayor Tracey Roberts.

"The City of Wanneroo is very proud to have established this community program which has brought people young and old together in some of our beautiful natural parks and open spaces," Mayor Roberts said.

"Now it is time for the City to provide opportunities to external coordinators to take the program to the next level."

Event coordinator Khoa Mai from FOOD HUB and creator of Wanneroo Street Food said there had been a huge increase in interest from food vendors this season, growing from 20 vendors last year to around 50.

Mr Mai, who also runs authentic Vietnamese street food truck Banh Mizzle, said he had seen food trucks grow in popularity over the years.

"People used to associate food trucks with unhealthy fast food; now vendors serve cheap gourmet meals that would not look out of place in an expensive restaurant."

Returning favourites: The Milford Street Shakers will rock Yanchep National Park during Retro Rewind in February.

Groovy baby! Retro Rewind returns in 2020

Put on your dancing shoes and get ready to shake your tail feather, as the leafy surrounds of Yanchep National Park are set to once again play host to Retro Rewind.

A funky celebration of all things yesteryear, this afternoon of rose-tinted, family-friendly fun will feature everything from retro fashion and music to classic hot rods and market stalls.

Lawn games, carnival games, rides and face painting will entertain the kids, while a series of souped-up roadsters will sit proudly on display.

Taking to the stage throughout the day are an array of musical acts, from Perth deep-funk outfit Randa & the Soul Kingdom to four-piece garage rock n roll band Catzilla and returning favourites, R'n'B ensemble The Milford Street Shakers.

What's Happening sat down with drummer Dominic D'Leno from The Milford Street Shakers to paint a picture of the guys and girls getting ready to bring the groove.

How did the band start out?

We first began life as 60s soul band 'Stratosfunk', but went into hiatus when lead singer Yara Neto left the band to have a baby.

The band reformed as the Milford Street Shakers with a slightly different line-up and a 1960's R&B focus.

What is the secret to balancing band life with work life?

For us, band life is work life. We all work in the music industry in some capacity, as well as performing in other musical acts. In saying that, we do like to break things up with pilates, sport, dancing, fishing and knitting, on top of the music.

What are some of the challenges that come with managing this kind of lifestyle?

Given that the majority of our work revolves around evening times, early morning commitments are always challenging.

We've been booked to perform live on the radio on a number breakfast shows where sometimes the odd band member sleeps through their alarm.

We also often get booked on very early morning flights to perform around regional WA, but luckily no one has missed a flight - yet.

If you could be a part of any other band living or passed, who would it be?

The Beatles.

And finally, what would be your dream venue or festival to play?

The New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival.

Tis the season to recycle

As well as festive cheer, Christmas and New Year bring their fair share of household clutter - from used wrapping paper to cardboard boxes, polystyrene and empty bottles.

To help local households cut down on the clutter this festive season, the City of Wanneroo has put together some simple tips and tricks:

Tipping old tech

If Santa Claus has been generous and gifted you a new piece of technology this Christmas, the question remains, what to do with old or outdated electronics.

The City of Wanneroo will be holding its annual community waste drop-off at Ashby Depot over the weekend of 1 and 2 February 2020, and it is here that residents will be able to get rid of a range of different items that will be re-used or recycled, including e-waste such as desktop computers, laptops, smartphones, printers, CRT monitors, peripherals and more.

Boxes begone

If you've run out of space in your yellow top recycling bin, cardboard boxes can be dropped off at Wangara Greens Recycling Facility for free - and best of all, they are open Boxing Day and New Year's Day from 8am-4.45pm.

The Wangara Greens Recycling Facility will also accept expanded polystyrene packaging - the kind that comes with new appliances.

Used wrapping paper can be smoothed flat and dropped straight into your yellow top recycling bin.

Polystyrene packaging can now be dropped off at Wangara Greens Recycling Facility.

Oh Christmas tree, oh Christmas tree

So Christmas Day has been and gone and the tree is starting to look a little worse for wear - what do you do now?

Natural trees can be dropped off at Wangara Greens Recycling Centre on weekends and public holidays. Used artificial trees can be disposed of via bulk waste verge collection or at Tamala Park Waste Management Facility.

For more information about waste and recycling in the City of Wanneroo, please visit wanneroo.wa.gov.au/wasteandrecycling

Changes to bin collections over Christmas and New Year

Between 25-27 December and 1-3 January, all waste bin collections will occur the day after their usual rostered day.

Usual bin collection days will resume from Monday 6 January 2020.

Bins will be collected as normal on the Australia Day public holiday (Monday 27 January).

For more information, head to wanneroo.wa.gov.au/wasteandrecycling

Need help with your community project or service?

Did you know that not-for-profit groups can apply to the City of Wanneroo for donations or youth sponsorships?

Each month the City considers funding applications from not-for-profit groups planning to run events or projects for the local community.

The City also regularly sponsors local young people who are selected to represent their sporting clubs interstate and overseas.

This year the City provided sponsorship of $600 to the Wanneroo Districts Rugby Union Club to help four junior members attend the National Gold Cup under 15s tournament in Brisbane in October.

The Club's Junior President Carla Honeycombe said the players appreciated the City's support.

"These boys are talented rugby players who are very passionate about their sport so it was great that the City helped with their travel expenses," said Ms Honeycombe.

Bright young minds: Local students step up to the plate

In addition to homework, after-school clubs and the occasional Fortnite session, more than 60 students from nine local primary and secondary schools have been working in partnership with the City of Wanneroo's Childhood and Youth team on furthering their leadership skills throughout the 2019 school year.

Aged 10 to 18, the students worked collaboratively with staff and Elected Members on delivering a range of community action projects they related to on a personal level - from health and inclusion to the environment and safety.

Pupils from Ashdale Secondary College took the lead in a sustainability initiative by organising a community clean-up of Koondoola Bushland, with students from years eight and nine inviting local residents to take part and care for the reserve, which is home to a number of native plant and animal species.

Joseph Banks Secondary College Youth Support Worker Lisa Te Aho said the school enjoyed supporting the curiosity of its students, who headed an assignment called 'Project Sporky'.

"It was fantastic to see our project evolve from an initial discussion about recycling and sustainability to an initiative that has positively influenced not only our school community, but also the wider community," Lisa said.

Meanwhile, students from Irene McCormack Catholic College were concerned about the mental health and wellbeing of their peers, and wanted to develop a way for people to anonymously ask for advice and support.

The group highlighted the importance of recognising anxiety, building resilience, teaching acceptance and eliminating the stigma around mental health.

"Everyone goes through a phase where they need help, and it (mental health) doesn't get spoken about often enough," student Kaleb Erikson (17, Irene McCormack Catholic College) said.

Aimee Mahura (17, Irene McCormack Catholic College) said she saw the City's Youth Leadership Program as a "once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to change her school community for the better".

"I gained a ton of experience working in a group, as well as being able to speak up about things I felt were important," Aimee said.

"It was so much fun, and we were able to join together and create something to help our school community."

After carrying out their community action projects, students were invited to present their outcomes to the Mayor, Elected Members and key community stakeholders at the Youth Leadership Showcase in September.

Speaking after the event, Kaleb said he was proud of what his group had achieved.

"We spoke in front of a large group and really pushed our point across, which was to help others," he said.

The City of Wanneroo's Childhood and Youth team will be facilitating various leadership opportunities throughout the 2020 school year.

City supports local Christmas celebrations

With Christmas just around the corner, the City of Wanneroo is once again proud to lend its support to a range of community-run Christmas celebrations through its community funding program.

From evenings filled with Christmas carols to a traditional Christmas lunch, there is plenty happening across the City to get into the festive spirit.

One such event is Festival on the Farm, an evening of music, food and entertainment held at Landsdale Farm and run by disability services and support organisation Family Support WA.

Inclusion and Engagement Coordinator April Hipkins said the alcohol-free event welcomed and encouraged all ages to come together and celebrate the festive season in style.

In fact it has already proven so popular, the 350 tickets have already been snapped up.

"We will have live music throughout the afternoon, including tunes from our own inclusive singing group," April said.

"Food and drinks will be available to purchase, including delicious wood-fired street food by Two Queens, or you can bring a picnic and a blanket."

The inclusive event will also feature a sensory play environment for young, inquisitive minds.

"Festival on the Farm is excited to welcome Sarah and Clare from Messy Moments, who will provide sensory play options that stimulate the senses through touch, sight, smell and different materials," April said.

Keep swimming pools safe this summer

What better way to spend a scorching summer's day than lounging by the pool?

While having fun and kicking back comes with the territory of owning a pool, the most important aspect is safety.

Nearly 15,000 City of Wanneroo residents have pools and spas in their backyards, and with accidental drowning one of the leading causes of death for young children, it is vitally important that pool owners understand the risks and remain vigilant.

Fence it off

Owners must ensure fences and gates are well-maintained and working correctly at all times. All pools and spas that contain water that is more than 30 centimetres deep must have a compliant fence and gate to restrict access by young children.

It is important to remember these rules don't just apply to fixed structures; inflatable, portable and wading pools must also be fenced.

Constant vigilance

Barriers are only one way to keep children safe. Young children are naturally curious and drawn to water. Supervision is essential and parents should always remain within arm's reach of children around water.

It is recommended parents help their children become familiar with water by teaching swimming at home or enrolling them in lessons. Pool owners should also learn resuscitation.

Residents can download a home pool and spa safety checklist by visiting wanneroo.wa.gov.au/poolsafety

You can also call Building Services for advice on 9405 5000.

Bushfire season - are you prepared?

Bushfires are unpredictable, and while the City of Wanneroo's volunteer bushfire brigades do an amazing job protecting lives and property, it is up to all residents to be prepared this summer.

All residents who live near bushland should have a 20 metre circle of safety around their homes clear of rubbish, long dry grass and other material that may catch fire.

The City also recommends mesh covers for evaporative air conditioners and metal fly screens on windows to keep sparks and embers out.

The single biggest killer in a bushfire emergency is indecision.

The Department of Fire and Emergency Services (DFES) advises people who live near bush to have a five minute fire chat with their households, covering these three questions:

- When will you know to leave?
- Where will you go?
- Which way will you go?

City of Wanneroo Chief Bushfire Control Officer Paul Postma said it is important residents understand what is required if they decide to defend their home during a bushfire.

"Residents should only stay if they are mentally, physically and emotionally prepared to defend their homes and have all the right equipment," Mr Postma said.

Visit dfes.wa.gov.au for more information about bushfire planning.

HERITAGE AND ARTS

Home is where the art is

A duo of new exhibitions spanning the Wanneroo Gallery and the Wanneroo Museum explore intersecting stories of migration and the meaning of home.

Drawn from the City of Wanneroo's cultural collections and local artists, the Home exhibition in the Wanneroo Gallery brings together personal narratives, creative works and opportunities to engage with the traditions, knowledge and stories of our diverse community.

Downstairs in the Wanneroo Museum, the permanent Making Wanneroo Home display has been refreshed and reinvigorated. It shares the stories of local migrants and the global contexts that brought them to making Wanneroo their home.

Van Doan, Vietnam

Van Doan and his family began their migration story with a dramatic escape from Vietnam in May 1986.

After three years in Malaysian refugee camps, the family were finally resettled in Australia, arriving in Marangaroo in 1989.

"The chronic fear was gone," Van said. "We didn't have to look over our shoulder, and no-one would take the men away to fight in a war."

For the first time, we could work toward a future instead of living day to day".

Starting out as market gardeners, Van and his family started leasing a rundown mushroom farm in Mariginiup in 2002.

After some initial trials and tribulations, the award-winning Lion Mushrooms has grown to become the second-biggest producer of mushrooms in the state.

Theo and Hanneke Puik, Netherlands

Arriving in 1966 on the Aurelia, Dutch natives Theo and Hanneke Puik were the creative minds behind Wanneroo's Botanic Gardens and Mini Golf course.

What started as a two-year passion project ballooned into a seven-year task, including nearly a year of perfecting soil conditions with 1,000 tonnes of organic waste to create the botanical wonderland.

But what started off as sandy scrubland became a thriving garden by the time of the park's opening in 1981, and has since gone from strength to strength, creating happy memories for countless visitors to this day.

Theo and Hanneke sold the business to their son-in-law Paul Woodcock in 1995.
