Linda Aitken JP

Welcome to the February edition of Wanneroo Link.

Get ready to rock this month, and join us for a spectacular evening under the stars with the Perth Symphony Orchestra as they perform your favourite Aussie rock hits!

Boogie along to some iconic rock, enjoy pre-show entertainment, kids' activities and food options – the perfect night out for the whole family.

The free Symphony Under the Stars event starts at 8pm on Saturday 25 February at Kingsway Regional Sporting Complex and is a fantastic opportunity to bring residents together and connect our community.

Keep fit with your friends this autumn with Kingsway Indoor Stadium's line-up of adult social sports.

Join the popular futsal competition, try your hand at our new volleyball competition or sign up for ladies and mixed netball.

Witness the fitness this autumn and build your own social sports teams today.

Public service announcement – the Yanchep Two Rocks Access Centre (YTRAC) is moving to Yanchep Community Centre.

The current office on Yanchep Beach Road is now closed, with YTRAC set to reopen at the community centre on Lagoon Drive from Monday 20 March.

The centre offers local residents easy access to City services without needing to drive to the Wanneroo Civic Centre.

You can register your pets, receive support to lodge building and planning applications, and pay for program bookings and facility hire.

Finally, make sure you have your say on the proposed concept for Quinns Rocks tourism development.

Visit the City's website for information on the proposed concept and to complete the community survey by 19 March.

Awards highlight our incredible volunteers

Four residents and one local not-for-profit were celebrated at the City of Wanneroo's 2023 Australia Day Awards.

Carramar resident Janine Gaskell was awarded for 28 years of volunteering at her local football club.

Janine was the driving force to launch the JETS Joondalup Kinross Junior Football Club's All Abilities Starkick program in 2016.

The program welcomes boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 12 years with all physical and cognitive abilities.

Wanneroo resident Marcia Dinnie was presented the Senior Award for her advocacy on behalf of seniors within Wanneroo and the wider community.

Marcia has been a member of the Wanneroo Senior Citizens Club for nearly 30 years, and club president for more than two decades.

The club is a vital hub in the community, offering social connection, lifelong learning and a range of engaging activities such as arts and crafts, bingo, tai chi and dancing.

Wangara-based The Pantry WA was awarded the Community Group Award for outstanding community service.

As the need for food support grew during the COVID-19 pandemic, the organisation continued to provide food hampers to those who were going through a difficult time.

Kyeden Heir, who graduated from Girrawheen Senior High School (GSHS) last year, was awarded the Youth Award for his leadership qualities and contribution to the local community.

While a student at GSHS, he was the co-president of the student council and represented the Clontarf Foundation, acting as a positive role model to younger students, encouraging and motivating all students to achieve success and be proud of their culture.

Get rid of household clutter this February

Come along to the City's community waste drop-off weekend to clear out unused household items.

Drop-off will take place at the Ashby Operations Centre (north entrance) on Saturday 25 and Sunday 26 February, 8am to 4pm.

For more information, including limits, conditions and items that will not be accepted, visit wanneroo.wa.gov.au/wastedropoff
