Achievements Tam Nguyen

I bring a diverse background in education, hospitality, and community service. I hold a Master of Education from Murdoch University, which underpins my commitment to lifelong learning and empowering others through quality training.

As a chef, I proudly represented Australia at the Culinary Olympics in Germany in 2008, 2012, 2020, and 2024, and competed in the Culinary World Cup in Luxembourg in 2022. These international experiences reflect my dedication to excellence, teamwork, and showcasing Australian talent on the world stage.

In the vocational education sector, I've been recognised as a WA Trainer of the Year finalist, and was awarded Trainer of the Year by Tourism Training Australia in 2023. These honours highlight my passion for mentoring students and creating pathways for success, particularly in the hospitality industry.

Beyond professional accolades, I've actively contributed to community initiatives, supporting young apprentices, working with not-for-profits, and fundraising for training programs. My achievements reflect a lifelong commitment to service, education, and building strong, inclusive communities.
