

City of Wanneroo Liveability Survey 2024

Jandabup - Suburb Summary

In November 2024, in conjunction with Place Score, the City of Wanneroo conducted its second Liveability Survey. This survey was completed by 4357 community members who told us what they value most about their neighbourhoods and how they rate their suburb. These scores were then combined to provide an overall Liveability Index for each suburb.

These results allow us to focus on the things that are most valuable to our community. It helps us to plan and make decisions that will have the biggest impact on your wellbeing. It also recognises that each suburb is different with individual values and experiences. By planning for liveability, we can provide safe, healthy, active and resilient communities and places.

Liveability Index

Liveability is simply what a place is like to live in. Understanding the relationship between people and their places is the key to understanding local liveability, and how it can be enhanced. The Liveability Index is an assessment of how each community rates their suburb. While two locations' scores may be similar, how the community rates each Place Attribute may be quite different within each location.

So what does this score mean?

Based on the national average: 70+ is performing well | 65-69 - average | 50-64 - room for improvement | < 50 urgent care needed

Our Strengths - These are the things you care about most and say are performing well.

We must continue to nurture and protect these attributes.

Elements of natural environment (natural features, views, vegetation, topography, water, wildlife etc.)

Welcoming to all people

Sense of belonging in the community

Our Opportunities - These are important and performing at moderate levels.

We must monitor these attributes as improvements could contribute to local liveability.

Physical comfort (including noise, smells, temperature)

Ease of driving and parking

Sense of personal safety (for all ages, genders, day or night)

Locally owned and operated businesses

Our Priorities - These are important to the community and are not performing as well as they could.

Improving these will contribute significantly to local liveability.
